Shortages Loom In Oil and Coal Labor Disputes

JAP WAR SUPPLIES CHECKED

Three-point Proposal by Labor Secretary Includes Wage Increase in Oil Industry as Compromise With Government Seizure Planned for Emergency—More Mines Closing

By HAROLD W. WARD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—CIO oil workers and 11 big oil companies—locked in controversy over wages—today studied a government peace proposal calling for:

1. A temporary 15 per cent pay increase, and
2. Agreement by both sides to accept an arbitrator's final settlement.

Acceptance would bring an immediate end to strikes which began September 16 and spread to 12 states. Latest hit area is the West Coast. Pacific military and naval supplies thereby were jeopardized.

Meandering Along the Main Stem

By WASH FAYETTE

Did you ever notice the Latin inscriptions over the entrances to the Court House? And, if you did, did you take the trouble to translate them? . . . or have them translated for you?

That might be a good assignment for the high school Latin teachers to give some of these young moderns.

Dr. William Bolton, the county's sanitarian saw them and was curious. What's more, he did something about satisfying his curiosity. . . which, I shamefully confess, is more than I ever did. He went to the seat of learning right there in the Court House—the office of the county school superintendent, W. J. Hilty. He got the answers, although Hilty admits he fortified them with references to a Latin grammar he keeps in his office. Here are the translations:

Over the south entrance the inscription "Fiat Justitia, Ruat Caelum" means in English "Let Justice Be Done, Though the Heavens Fall."

Over the north entrance—"Salus Populi Suprema Est Lex" means "The Welfare of the People is the Supreme Law."

Over the west entrance—"Pro Bono Publico" means "For the Public Good."

There is no Latin inscription over the east entrance. I hope someone will start a bit of research and when the reason is found will let me know. Then, I'll pass it along to you.

It was a tasty pecan bar, and after eating it (I like to see what candies and other foods are made of) I read the label and almost fainted. You'll soon learn the reason why.

One naturally would expect a candy bar of this type to contain pecans, sugar and syrup, with some flavoring.

Well, it does! And then some! and then some more!

Here, according to wrapper, is what that pecan bar contained:

"Ingredients—sugar, corn syrup, pecans, summer coating, whole milk, corn starch, dextrose, artificial flavoring, salt, egg albumen and soya protein. Summer coating consists of—sugar, vegetable oils, chocolate liquor, sweet cream, buttermilk powder, cocoa powder, leithin, malt, salt and artificial flavoring."

Wow! What a candy bar!

HAGERT WILL DIE IN CHAIR WEDNESDAY

Lausche Declines To Spare His Life

COLUMBUS, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche declined today to spare the life of 19-year-old Henry William Hagert of Cleveland, who is scheduled to die in the electric chair tomorrow night for killing two boys.

The State Pardon and Parole Commission had recommended that the governor not intervene in the case.

Hagert was convicted of fatally shooting James and Charles Collins, 13-year-old twins, in Bay Village, a Cleveland suburb. The slaying occurred Aug. 12, 1943.

Hagert also signed a confession that he killed 15-year-old Edward Bowen at Cleveland in March, 1943. He reported too, that he beat to death another boy, named "Richard or Robert," near Lorain, but Warden Frank D. Henderson of Ohio Penitentiary said he doubted the story.

JAPAN IS STILL OPERATING MILITARY SCHOOL IN SPITE OF PLEDGE TO EDUCATE FOR PEACE

By MORRIS LANDSBERG

NIKKO, Japan, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Japan's surrender and stated willingness to weed militarism out of education outwardly haven't affected the nation's No. 1 school for boys.

The School for Peers, where Japan trains princes and future leaders, still stresses Bushido in spirit if not in military subjects. To an American observer the school has a distinct military air from the instruction to the way the boys march, bow and salute.

Both the emperor's sons—Crown Prince Akihito, 11, and Prince Masahito, 9, are students at the Nikko school, which is controlled not by the education ministry but by the ministry of the imperial household. Akihito is in the sixth grade and is described by instructors as "an especially good student." Masahito is in the fourth grade.

Administration Tax Cut Plan Would Ease Low Income Pay

ZHUKOV'S USA VISIT POSTPONED BY ILLNESS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The White House said today the visit of Marshal Georgi Zhukov, Russian commander in occupied Germany, has been postponed because of the marshal's illness.

Zhukov had planned to land in New York Thursday.

New Scraps Over Poll Tax, Road Program and Presidential Appointment Flare in Congress

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Democratic strength built up preponderantly today behind the administration's proposal for a $5,000,000,000 tax cut next year that would free 12,000,000 low income persons from further income levies.

A spot poll indicated the House Ways and Means Committee— which only last week cast aside President Truman's request for jobless pay liberalization—would give speedy approval to the tax bill and send it to the full House for a vote.

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Finance Committee termed the tax-cutting proposal submitted yesterday by Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson "a very constructive approach."

Vinson proposed repeal on January 1 of both the war time three per cent normal tax on individuals and the 95 per cent excess profits tax on corporations. He also recommended sharp cuts of excise taxes on such things as furs, jewelry, liquor and cosmetics, effective next July 1.

Republicans, however, stood firm on their own tax program, which would slice income levies 20 percent for each taxpayer.

The Republican leader, Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, told reporters Vinson's proposal (Please Turn to Page Six)

Missing Child Drowned Police Believe as They Grill Mother and Lover

WELLSVILLE, Oct. 2.—(AP)—A railroad laborer and Mrs. Olive May Long, 23, will be questioned together today concerning the disappearance of the latter's 17-month-old daughter, Edna Irene, missing since Friday.

Columbiana County Sheriff George Hayes said the two would confront each other later in Mahoning County jail at Youngstown.

The railroad employee, a former Wellsville resident, was taken in custody by Pennsylvania Railroad police in Mansfield after Mrs. Long told Sheriff Hayes she had been with him the night the baby disappeared.

The mother, wife of an Army private stationed in the Philippines, was being held on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of her three-year-old daughter, Elaine, by taking the child in taverns.

Mrs. Long told police the baby was snatched from her arms by "a dark man," who fled in an automobile but Sheriff Hayes declared last night he believed she had been drowned in the Ohio River.

Hayes said he questioned Elaine about the baby and quoted the child as saying:

"The man placed her in the water and she stopped crying. The water splashed on me but I wasn't afraid. The man had a flashlight." The sheriff notified attendants of Ohio River dams below Wellsville to be on the lookout for the body of the missing girl.

Hayes said "several persons" reported seeing Mrs. Long, a baby and Elaine accompanied by a railroad worker in taverns Friday. However, railroad police reported the man admitted being in Wellsville but denied seeing Mrs. Long. The sheriff said Mrs. Long was unable to recall some events of the night.

FOUR INCH RAINS REPORTED IN VALLEY

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Rains ranging from one to nearly four inches sent small streams teeming throughout this tri-state portion of the Ohio valley today.

Heaviest rain reported overnight by the weather bureau was 3.85 inches at Ohio River dam 36, Coney Island, 10 miles above Cincinnati. There, three feet of water sloshed across the A. & P. highway (US 52), marooning a dozen or more cars.

Portsmouth reported 2.01 inches; Dam 33 at Maysville, Ky., 1.85 inches; Dam 34, Chillicothe, O., 0.71; Dam 35, New Richmond, O., 2.10 and Dam 37 Fernbank, 10 miles below Cincinnati, 1.40.

SCIOTO COUNTY'S CORN DOUBLES 1944 CROP

PORTSMOUTH, Oct. 2.—(AP)—George E. Wood, Scioto County Farm Agent, estimates the corn crop here will total more than 1,200,000 bushels, almost double the 1944 output. Wood attributes the increase to more favorable weather and more extensive use of Hybrid, adapted to the southern area.

Gen. Patton in Bad Over Criticism and Given Desk Job, Tip

Old 'Blood and Guts' Reported Transferred from Command of Occupation Zone After Expounding Denazification Theories With Reflections on American Politics

FRANKFURT ON THE MAIN, Germany, Oct. 2.—(AP)—An unimpeachable source said today Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., had been transferred from command of the U. S. Third Army to command of the 15th Army.

This was learned here today several hours after a reliable source in Berlin had reported that Patton had been relieved of his command in Bavaria after widespread criticism of his views on denazification.

The Berlin informant said Lt. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott, Jr., succeeded Patton.

This, reported in a dispatch by AP Correspondent Edward B. Ball, agreed with information here and it was learned that the change in commands will be effective October 7.

Patton's new command consists of only a headquarters and special troops engaged in research work.

The 15th Army does not control any occupation area. Its mission is to prepare reports on Allied relations in the war, with recommendations for future procedure. At present it is "a paper Army."

It was announced July 21 that the 15th had completed its job as an occupying force and that the commander at that time, Lt. Gen. Leonard T. Gerow, had been named president general of a board of American officers to make a detailed study of the European war.

(At Washington, the War Department said the report of Patton's relief was "news," adding that the decision was entirely up to Eisenhower.)

Patton, who has often been in hot water for speaking out, got himself into difficulties September 22 when he expounded his personal theories about the denazification of his Bavarian area at his headquarters in bad Toelz.

He told a news conference then it might be necessary to keep some Nazis in office "to insure ourselves that women, children and old men will not perish from hunger or cold this winter."

This statement brought editorial criticism in the United States, as did Patton's comparison of "this Nazi thing" to the "Democratic and Republican fight back home."

Hazy U. S. Policy Regarding Postwar Maritime Service Put Under Spotlight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—All right, so we are a world power. What do we do? After all, we won this war and have ten times more shipping than anyone. We have all the bottoms to haul things. The commercial ships of the others have been sunk or seized. We have everything on the oceans. We rule the world. Or do we? What are we doing about it?

Well, Mr. Crowley has resigned seven of his nine jobs—or is it six? He is the foreign economic administrator, and judging from his actions I would say he has concluded our victory is a total commercial loss.

What do we want to do? We have not decided. Now, let me see. Is it better to destroy all the shipping we have and let the British get it? After all, the British have been through a hard war. Their (Please Turn to Page Three)

ARMISTICE REACHED IN INDO-CHINA FRAY

LONDON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The Southeast Asia Command said in a broadcast reported by Reuters today an agreement to "cease fire" in French Indo-China was reached yesterday by French authorities and leaders of the Annamese independence movement.

The colony has been torn by disorders since the Japanese surrendered, and natives have killed at least one United States officer.

The Russians have reportedly refused to sign anything until they gained their point that France and China be excluded from discussion of the treaties with Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary.

Molotov was reported by persons present at the weekend exchange to have taken exception to a remark by Bevin that the Soviet commissar's methods were "Hitlerian."

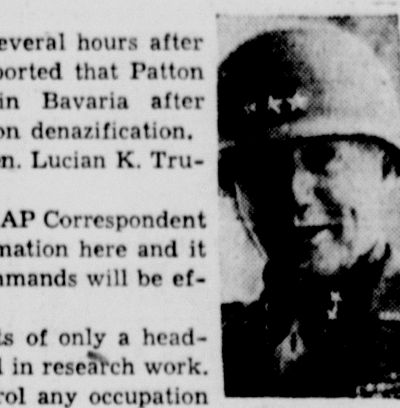

Apparently abandoning hope of untangling the debate over procedure for the Balkan peace treaties, the ministers now were snarled in the problem of what to do about the final conference documents.

The representatives of the United States, Russia, Great Britain, France and China met more than two hours this morning and reconvened for another session later.

Some who tried to get to their quarters at night were killed. Homes of others were looted and burned.

A majority of the native workers fled from Saigon soon after the "war for independence" began early this month.

A number of servants, however, remained loyal to French house-

HIDDEN PLUNDER OF CONQUEST IS BEING HUNTED

Reorganization of Cabinet in Prospect as Tokyo Press Grows Openly Critical

TOKYO, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Pressure mounted among Japanese today for top-to-bottom reorganization of their cabinet by the time demobilization is completed in mid-October; and General MacArthur demanded a full accounting of Japan's military production as well as existing stocks of war materiel.

He asked the Japanese government for full information on the annual production of arms, ordnance, ammunition and automotive equipment from 1941 through August, 1945, plus estimates for the remainder of 1945.

Japanese sources reported a rising sentiment for elimination from the cabinet of ministers once associated with the beaten, war-making regime, as well as those blamed for failure to anticipate growing food, housing and fuel shortages.

Army doctors today reported former premier Shigenori Togo, suspected war criminal, isn't faking; he does have a heart attack and consequently his appearance at U. S. Eighth Army prison has been delayed.

Plunder Hunted

Allied occupation authorities continued their search for hidden gold, silver and currency which the Japanese wartime administration's military commanders plundered in the nations they overran.

(In Shanghai, Mayor Chien Tachen said the war loot of Japanese and Germans in Shanghai would be seized by his administration and returned to its owners even though it had been transferred to Swiss and Portuguese. He added at a press conference the 2,400 Germans in Shanghai would be placed in a restricted area and the pro-Nazis and Japanese collaborators among them screened out and arrested.)

The Tokyo newspaper Mainichi said today new loud demands for a less tainted, more energetic government may force Premier Prince Higashi-Kuni to shuffle the cabinet even before the end of demobilization, set for about October 15.

Other well-informed Japanese sources said Higashi-Kuni himself might resign in the face of increasing criticism of his government's failure to formulate a concrete plan to alleviate the shortages of food, housing and fuel before the rapidly approaching winter.

These sources said Vice Premier Prince Fumimaro Koyama might lead the exit march in a general clearing out of cabinet ministers and other government leaders formerly aligned with the Japanese war machine.

Tokyo's newspapers, enjoying a new Allied-guaranteed freedom of the press, attacked Japanese government "inefficiency" and "secrecy." They demanded the immediate retirement of "feudalistic and narrow-minded officials" in the home ministry who tried to confiscate editions which carried American correspondents' interviews with Emperor Hirohito and pictures of the unprecedented meeting of General MacArthur and the emperor. The Allied command countermanded the home ministry order.

While the Allied command has guaranteed the Japanese press and radio the right to report the truth, its censorship remains strict. It ordered confiscation of all outstanding copies of the English-Japanese magazine, Yoyo Keizai Shimpou, today, for "publication of material inimical to the interests of the occupation forces."

SERIES SCALPERS BUSY

DETROIT, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Ticket scalpers were reported asking $50 to $60 today for strips of three tickets to the World Series. The straight price for three tickets is $18.

HIS BIG APPETITE LANDS HIM IN JAIL

CLEVELAND, Oct. 2.—(AP)—A 34-year-old Cleveland laborer was in city jail on a petty larceny charge today largely because of his appetite.

He was charged with the theft of roast beef, soup, salad, pie, coffee, wieners and beans—all in one sitting—from a downtown drugstore, where, police said, he dined for a week without paying his check.

His nightly habit of polishing off "the meal and then ordering and eating a second full dinner intrigued the waitresses, who said his check always ran between $1.20 and $1.50.

They asked the cashier about him but she was unable to find any single meal checks totaling more than a dollar during last week. So last night the store manager and a porter watched the man eat his two full meals; his check and saunter out the door. They told police.

At the police station, the man surrendered a large package. It contained a whopping lunch.

Indo-Chinese Now Pay for Loyalty

Natives Turn on French and Servants Who Stayed With Them When Revolt Flares

By HAL BOYLE

SAIGON.—(AP)—Annamite natives who have remained faithful to their French masters during Indo-China's rebellion are paying a terrible price for their loyalty.

A majority of the native workers fled from Saigon soon after the "war for independence" began early this month.

A number of servants, however, remained loyal to French households, and these are the most frightened people in Indo-China. Some who tried to get to their quarters at night were killed. Homes of others were looted and burned.

Typical of these natives who decided to stay with the side that "battered their bread in the past" is "Johnny," a kitchen roustabout in the Hotel Majestic, which quartered a group of American correspondents. The hotel, standing at the edge of a river, from across which Annamese rioters fire at irregular intervals, also houses a number of British troops.

Small and dark-skinned, with short-cropped hair and gold teeth, Johnny is terribly gun-shy. Every time rifle or machinegun fire echoed in the hotel's bare, first-floor dining room, little Johnny (Please Turn to Page Three)

BELIEVE LEAK IN BIG SEWER HAS BEEN FOUND

Break in Creek Bed Where B. & O. Wreck Occurred Is Repaired

With less water passing through the sewage disposal plant here than at any time in three years, according to Operator James Finney, City Manager W. L. Stambaugh expressed belief Tuesday that the main leak in the sewer has been found and repaired.

It was found that the interceptor sewer had been crushed by the recent B. & O. wreck at Paint Creek west of the B. & O. Station here, and when repairs were made of all breaks at that point, the heavy flow of water stopped suddenly, leading to the belief that the main leak had been located, and that it had existed for a long time, taking water direct from Paint Creek.

Stoppage of the Ladoga Canning Plant after completing the corn pack has also reduced the flow of water, and it is possible that one or two other contributing causes have eased the flow.

Finney said that during the past few days the pumpage at the plant had been reduced to almost one-half what it had been for a long time, and that instead of both pumps working most of the time, one pump was handling it and was not in operation constantly.

This means that the sludge is not diluted like it was, and that most of the sewerage can be handled by the plant and not by-passed into Paint Creek, it is understood.

For a long while the interceptor sewer had been flowing fully twice the normal amount, and pumpage bills have been exorbitant.

For months efforts had been made to locate the leak, or leaks, which were permitting vast quantities of water to enter the sewer, and which had also permitted fish up to 2-3 pounds to get into the interceptor sewer.

A close watch is to be kept on the sewer for sometime to ascertain if the present small amount of water is to be permanent.

HOSPITAL, LEVY ARE ENDORSED IN P-TA COUNCIL

Mass X-ray of High School Students Discussed at Meeting

The Fayette County Hospital levy, renewal of the three mill levy for the schools and the National War Fund campaign received the support of the P-TA in Washington C. H. at a meeting of the P-TA Council at the home of Mrs. Charles Hurtt, its president, Monday night.

Motions endorsing the hospital and three mill levy were passed at the meeting, the first for the council this year.

A. B. Murray, superintendent of city schools, in discussing the three mill levy emphasized that it was a renewal of the present one and did not mean an increase in taxes. Support of the hospital also was pledged.

A drive to increase the membership of each P-TA ten percent is underway now. Mrs. Hurtt said she urged the presidents of the P-TAs to work toward the membership goal.

Stephen C. Brown, the high school principal, discussed the mass X-ray of junior high and high school students which is sponsored by the Fayette County Tuberculosis and Health Association. The board of education has approved the X-ray, it was pointed out. Funds from the sale of health seals and health bonds will finance the program. Individual P-TA units were urged to purchase health bonds again this year.

Mrs. Hurtt reported on the P-TA Council convention which she attended in Columbus. Mrs. W. A. Hastings, national P-TA president, attended the meeting. Mrs. Hurtt said she urged P-TA presidents to plan to attend the convention December 17 and 18 in Columbus.

The first meeting of Cherry Hill P-TA Tuesday at 7:30 P. M. also was announced.

TAXICAB DRIVER HELD UP NEAR WASHINGTON C. H.

Passenger Steals $80 and Takes Cab Which Is Located Tuesday

Sheriff Orland Hays was busy Tuesday, with assistance of the Springfield authorities, trying to locate a man who held up Earl DeHart, Greenfield taxi-cab driver, on Route 79, four miles south of Washington C. H. at 2:55 A. M. Tuesday, robbing DeHart of $80, forced him out of the taxi, and then drove the taxi to Springfield where it was found abandoned near the noon hour Tuesday.

DeHart, who contacted officers here as soon as possible after the robbery, stated that he had driven the man to Springfield, and was enroute home when the man shoved a gun against DeHart and commanded him to stop the taxi.

DeHart said his passenger then forced him to turn over his money, which amounted to $50. Put out of his cab, DeHart was compelled to stand by and watch the man drive away in it.

Springfield police reported the missing taxi was found abandoned there at noon Tuesday. Clues left by the robber-passenger are being followed in the hope he can be apprehended in short order.

The first iron railroad bridge in the United States is believed to have been built in 1845.

THEATER PARTY TO START NWF CAMPAIGN HERE

'Give Generously in Victory' Slogan Is Backed by Committee

Everything is ready for the opening of the National War Fund drive here October 11 with a theater party for all workers at the Fayette Theater.

The plans were completed at a meeting of ward and township workers in the Common Pleas courtroom Monday night at which Charles Reinke, the campaign chairman, presided.

Howard E. Rice, special service officer for the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Chillicothe will speak at the kick-off meeting, Reinke said. He emphasized that the actual meeting on October 11 would be a short one following the movie, "Mama Loves Papa." No materials will be distributed to workers at that time either, Reinke said. They will be mailed.

Free tickets will be mailed to all workers in time for them to attend the movie which will be the second show.

Walter Patton, publicity chairman, made a report of the area meeting in Troy which preceded the declaration by Gov. Frank J. Lausche proclaiming Monday as the opening date of the National War Fund Drive in Ohio.

The quota for the National War Fund here is $23,000. Using the slogan, "Give Generously in Victory," the committee here feels that with cooperation and steady

MORE TRAFFIC WRECKS OCCUR

One Driver Fined After Police Investigation

Traffic accidents in this city have been numerous recently, and two more occurred Monday afternoon, with the result that one driver was fined $10 and costs for failing to have a driver's license.

The first wreck occurred at 3:25 P. M. when Charles Farmer, route 1, in a Ford sedan, headed south on Hinde Street at Temple, struck a Studebaker car owned by Bertha Leach, city. The Leach car being headed east on Temple Street. Both cars were badly damaged, but no one was seriously hurt.

Chief Valden Long investigated and found Farmer had failed to observe the stop sign.

The second wreck was on Washington Avenue at Elm Street, where several wrecks have occurred. Beecher Russell Ingram, city R. 5, driving a Packard east on Washington Avenue at 5:25 P. M., struck the rear of a Ford coupe owned by Harry Leeth, Eastern Avenue, and driven by Larry Leeth, Gibbs Ave. nue, who had halted his car in the street and was talking with someone at the time.

Ingram said he was behind another car, and when the car turned off, he was too close to the parked car to avoid hitting it, inasmuch as another car was approaching. The parked car was not damaged extensively. The Packard was damaged considerably. Policeman Robert Palmer investigated. Larry J. Leeth was charged with failing to have a driver's license and fined $10 and costs by Judge R. H. Sites.

Trains need "LOVIN' CARE" too!

Trains don't just arrive, turn around and go out again. No, sir! Baltimore & Ohio trains are given regular furloughs to get a thorough "going over" in one of the railroad's many well-equipped repair shops.

From one end to the other, inside and out, B&O trains are inspected by experts in the diagnosis and treatment of train "ailments". Worn parts are replaced . . . mechanical adjustments are made . . . and even complete rebuilding jobs are done, when necessary. Yes, B&O trains, as always, are kept tuned fit as a fiddle.

Thanks to these periodic check-ups, and to the application of real "loving care" in keeping equipment at the peak of efficiency, B&O's 70,000 men and women are able to bring to you and your community the finest in modern rail service.

WORLD TODAY

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

You'd think that the Big Five Council of Foreign Ministers in London would have been able to reach some sort of workable accord, what with the second World War still casting its monstrous shadow over us, and the entire eastern hemisphere, from Europe clear through Asia, facing a desperate period of hunger and politico-economic chaos.

Time is precious in these parlous days. It would be absurd, of course, to suppose that peace treaties and other far-reaching agreements can be reached in a few hours but it's a terrible mistake to underestimate the dangers of slowness in getting the war-torn countries—enemy as well as Allied—back on their feet as fast as possible. Before the coming winter is through we are going to see situations in the late war theaters where delay of even a week in distribution of food will cost many lives from starvation. Maybe that delay can be charged to tardiness in implementing peace and getting rehabilitation under way now.

This isn't to say that the present foreign ministers' conference has been directly concerned with such problems as the feeding of Europe. The main item on its agenda has been the framing of peace treaties for Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania and Finland. Still, this task has a very direct relation to the rehabilitation question. Failure to complete it retards rehabilitation.

Back in the dark days of the war, when the Allies had great problems to solve, there was a meeting of the Big Three chiefs of state. Those three men, accompanied by their experts and advisers, ironed out the mutual problems and laid plans for conduct of the war. Probably they had their differences of opinion at times, but because they were only three and were clothed with vast authority, they always reached an accord. Momentous political and military decisions were made—and were carried out. Only yesterday I heard a distinguished personage who attended these conferences speak of the faithfulness with which these agreements were kept.

Well, of course the life-or-death struggle of the battlefields held the Big Three together in closest cooperation. Yet many of the situations which the Big Three met at that time were no more dangerous in the long run than those which face us at this moment.

We mustn't forget that upon the next few months may depend the future of peace.

So it's good to hear talk of another meeting of the Big Three heads of state to take up the situations which are plaguing rehabilitation now. If President Truman, Generalissimo Stalin and Prime Minister Attlee could get together in the immediate future, it might make all the difference to the Allied progress in reconstruction.

Naturally there are tough questions to be answered. The major powers of Europe and Asia are maneuvering for military security. This accounts in part for the spheres of influence which are being created. Unfortunately, power politics also have entered into the picture. These things have given rise to suspicions among the Allies.

Probably the best way to tackle this highly dangerous matter of suspicions is to dump them onto a table before the Big Three chiefs. There such problems as the atomic bomb could be threshed out—and don't let anybody think that the bomb hasn't created a terrific international question. A meeting of these three statesmen would be calculated to set the peace wheels turning fast.

OHIO HISTORY DAY OBSERVANCE SUNDAY

As usual many Fayette counties will attend the annual Ohio History Day services to be held at Logan Elm state park, six miles south of Circleville, Sunday at 2 P. M., when Hugh S. Jenkins, attorney general of Ohio, will be the speaker.

Should it be a rainy afternoon, the exercises will be held in the Shelter House of the Ted Lewis Park Circle, the park being located in the northwestern edge of Circleville.

CLINTON'S QUOTA
WILMINGTON—Howard G. Hudson has been notified that Clinton County's quota for the Victory Loan Drive is $926,000.

EMPLOYERS ARE ASKED TO AID WITH REPORTS

Special Information About Employment Trends Being Sought

Cooperation of Fayette County employers in the prompt preparation and return of a special report on employment trends in their respective establishments is being solicited by Ward C. Miller, manager of the United States Employment Service office here.

The forms—51,000 of them—are being mailed this week to all employers in Ohio asking for significant employment figures as well as projected employment trends through April 15, 1946.

The completed reports should be forwarded by employers to the Administrative Office of the USES—Bureau of Unemployment Compensation in Columbus, Miller said.

The urgent necessity of having the information asked for is pointed out to employers generally.

The "Report on Post-War Employment" asks employers to furnish within one week figures on their September 15 employment of both men and women, their estimated separations between September 15 and January 15, 1946, their estimated hires in the same period, and their employment forecasts for January 15, and April 15, 1946.

Information obtained from these employers, who employ some 2,000,000 workers, will be used by the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation in planning its personnel and facilities for handling the prospective unemployment compensation load, and by the United States Employment Service in preparing for placement loads. The information as to individual employers will be treated as confidential and will not be made public.

The completed statistical data, showing employment forecasts by industries and businesses as groups, will be made available to the Governor's Ohio Post-War Program Commission for its use in determining the extent of post-war unemployment and to recommending steps, where needed, for providing employment. This group consists of representatives of government, industry, labor and agriculture.

rustling fresh tea for everyone who entered the dining room, and he hovered around the only burning candle like a moth. Every time a gun banged, he leaped up.

"What's the matter?" asked a British sergeant. "You afraid of your friends across the river?"

Johnny nodded his head vigorously. He was fearful that if the Annamese fighters ever broke into the main part of the city they would cut his throat quicker than they would a Frenchman's.

The strike by most Annamese workers left the Continental Palace Hotel, Saigon's principal hostelry, understaffed. It was crowded with French refugees and internees, many of them homeless and all their possessions burned by the rioters.

Until a group of stranded Dutch prisoners of war volunteered to help run the hotel, the French guests had to clean their own rooms and wait on themselves.

The hotel was a center of rumor and wild reports. At night French families in the outlying areas left their homes and slept in the hotel's corridors.

Every morning brought new rumors of Annamese atrocities. A priest was reported murdered and several French families were said to have been seized as hostages. At the town hall officials listed 171 French residents as missing.

Fires the rioters started in laying waste to French property in the countryside could be seen from the roofs of Saigon's buildings.

One afternoon guns began barking only two blocks from the city's main thoroughfare. Annamese and Chinese hotel servants ran to the French cathedral for sanctuary. But the French civilians ran to the hotel.

The British, Russians and others operate at a loss, just for the privilege of monopolizing it. But we have got to be big about this thing. We have simply got to destroy our advantage over those people. What will they think of us? Why they will suspect we were trying to get something out of this war. We were just imperialists, that's all. You are just a dirty Fascist—and you know it.

What to do? We must scrap our fleet, of course. What else, you Fascist? Sink all those ships that Kaiser built because they are a menace to the domination by the Soviet Union. After all, the Soviets fought a hard war, and they deserve something. They are a backward country whether or not their campaign against W. L. White was successful, and I for one, believe the only way we can get along in the world with them is to give them what they ask—the Dardanelles, all Europe, Japan, and then finally the United States.

They will not be happy until they have these things, and no one but a Fascist would permit them to be unhappy. If Russia is not happy, who can be? My heart bleeds for Russia. After all, she won the war, did she not? (Please do not write your answers to me, as my mail is already beyond answering.)

Well, what are we going to do? We do not know. We have not made up our mind. We have suddenly become a world empire without knowing the responsibilities. No wonder Crowley quit. What could you do with a situation like this, where you want something, deny you are asking for it, and have not the slightest idea how in hell you will get it.

Frankly, I think the best thing would be to secede to Russia. At least she knows what she wants to do, and is not afraid of asserting it. After all, sink all the ships we built for war, lend Britain $6,000,000,000 (billions) so she can build up trade against us and Stalin $6,000,000,000 (billions) more so he will not feel hurt or slighted.

Well, now let us see! We are the leading power of the world, but we must not take a commercial interest in our position because that would be naughty and we must scrap our ships, which Mr. Kaiser will tell you we built to win the war, because, after all, it is not fair for us to have an advantage. Russia might not like it. Furthermore, are you for the new world, or are you not?

But what do you want to do? Do we want world trade? To get it we will have to operate at a loss.

We must give everything always, or maybe they will not like us. And it would be a terrible thing if they did not like us. We were always so fond of each other.

The sum total of it is we do not know what we want to do. We do not know if we are an empire or not. We have assumed charitable responsibilities to the world without asserting leadership. We feel we must not, because it would be unthinkable to exhibit the commercial instinct all other nations are displaying.

We must lose everything, scrap and abandon everything because, you know, Russia would not like it if we did not. We are a world power—without power or decision. Frankly I am a little afraid Stalin may not like it.

Co-operatives are more important today than ever before, it was decided when the Jefferson Township Farm Bureau Council III met with Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Spengler.

An educational program to overcome "distrustfulness of government leaders" toward co-operatives was needed in all countries, the council members decided. Teaching modern methods of farming and manufacturing also was considered important.

AN IMPROVEMENT OVER IRRADIATED MILK?

THAT'S RIGHT—improved Wilson's is better milk. And here's why. Science developed a new way to put more Vitamin D into Wilson's Milk—an improved process that gives you 400 units of this "sunshine" vitamin in every pint—three times as much as formerly supplied by irradiation. This new high level of Vitamin D content in Wilson's, attained by the simple addition of a Vitamin D concentrate known as D<sub>3</sub>, is particularly important since Government authorities recommend that everyone have at least 400 units of Vitamin D every day. Now one pint of improved Wilson's Milk supplies this entire amount. Mothers, think what this means to your baby. Think what it means to know that when your baby gets improved Wilson's Milk, he has a dependable and adequate source of Vitamin D. And housewives, use improved Wilson's in your daily cooking, and every dish will contain the added nutritive value of this extra "sunshine" vitamin. Don't forget, Wilson's—with this great new improvement—costs you no more. Your grocer has it, and it's point-free. Look for the blue and white label—that's Wilson's, the milk that's now three times richer in "sunshine" Vitamin D.

The Threat Approach
The UAW petition for a strike vote at General Motors indicates that a government-sanctioned walkout will be used, not as a last resort in the failure of contract negotiations, but as a threat before negotiations even begin.

This is a new approach, made possible by the continued existence of that misguided and now outmoded piece of wartime legislation, the Smith-Connally Act. And it seems bound to complicate further the immediate problem of speedy reconversion and re-employment.

The Smith-Connally Act's 30-day "cool off" period can't help but cool off any industry's desire to schedule and tool up for mass production of long-needed goods. It will add uncertainty to the depressing economic effect of impatient, unauthorized strikes now in progress.

Many factory workers deserve and probably will get wage increases to compensate their loss of overtime in this period of high living costs. They have the general promise of a friendly administration in Washington to help get them. But indiscriminate rather than legitimate use of the strike weapon at this time can alienate the public, cost the workers money and prestige, and delay the country's return to a dream of peace and prosperity.

Two immediate remedies for this delay seem possible. One would be for labor to give as much attention to full employment as it now is giving to unemployment insurance and full-employment legislation (which wouldn't begin to function until next year). The other would be for Congress to give as much attention to repealing the Smith-Connally Act as it now is giving to Elliott Roosevelt's defaulted loans. Bad as this Roosevelt financial escapade was it is small stuff as compared to the threat of a nation tied up by strikes and industry at a standstill at a critical time.

Argentine Situation

Peron, it appears, needed a front in the coup of 1943. Arturo Rawson supplied that front. With him as figurehead the coup had a chance to succeed which it would not have had with Peron leading. With the government offices once seized, the Colonels first dropped Rawson, then kicked him upstairs into a diplomatic post in Brazil. Rawson seems to have found he could not stomach the Peron methods, so resigned. An anti-Peron group, which has come more and more to represent the majority of the Argentine people, tried the other day to get the government away from the Peron gang, with Rawson leading the revolt.

The Rawson group seems to have underestimated Peron's power; and for the moment it lost. Rawson was jailed, and so were the managers of the liberal newspapers. A state of siege was declared and repressive measures were taken. At last word the newspaper men were allowed to go free. The rioting and disturbance since the failure of the Rawson coup appears to be a real popular uprising. The Peron gang seems frightened and unsure of its position. A government securely backed by its citizens does not need to take harsh, repressive action. With every manifestation of Peron's insecurity, the popular uprising gains force.

The hopeful fact is that the Argentine people are sufficiently sick of their overlords to want to take matters into their own hands. They are determined to get the free elections promised for this fall. The Act of Chapultepec gives the other American nations a change to uphold the people against these usurpers.

Must Greed Prevail?

It is predicted that America's most violent strike era lies ahead. Union leaders have given union locals the word that they are free to strike whenever ready. The skilled craft unions are already preparing to refuse new members. They think that they can maintain prosperity for a few by keeping supply below demand in closed shops.

Some union leaders can see that this policy of denying the right to work to a man will play into the hands of advocates of legislation which would permit men to enter any occupation for which they are qualified, regardless of union restrictions.

Both unions and Congress seem to have forgotten that there is a Constitution of the United States, under which men were guaranteed the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness—which means the right to work. If we have any Constitution left, or any semblance of freedom for the individual, and courts to protect him, why should any man be shut out of work by any union or industry, until he pays some organization for the privilege of being allowed to earn his daily bread and butter?

Until this question is answered and a man is free to work and free to join a union or not join it, as he sees fit, we cannot hold the United States up to the rest of the world as a shining example of a free country. What have our soldiers been fighting for if when they return to their homes they cannot work without paying for the privilege?

Diet and Health

Anemia and Diet Deficiencies

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
THE relation of various foods in the diet to the development of diseases, is an important matter for study. Anemia or lack of coloring in the blood is a condition which often depends to some extent on the diet. During war and postwar periods when food shortages exist, such disturbance becomes more frequent.

The coloring matter of the blood contains iron. Hence, the eating of foods rich in iron is important in preventing anemia. Deficiencies in the diet may also affect the red blood cells.

Types of Anemia

There are various types of anemia. In some instances, the blood cells are larger than normal. This is called macrocytic anemia. When the blood cells are smaller than normal it is called microcytic anemia.

Doctors Geoffrey F. Taylor and P. N. Chittani of India have made a study of fifty persons with anemia. They were taken from a group of people, 17,000 of whom were meat eaters and 1,188 of whom were vegetarians. These physicians found that in a period of four and one-half months, 17 cases of anemia came from the group of 17,000 meat eaters, and 26 from the smaller group of vegetarians.

Vegetarians Greater

In other words, the rate of anemia among the vegetarians was 22 times greater than among the meat eaters. Furthermore, the vegetarians had the macrocytic type of anemia, while the microcytic type occurred in the meat-eating group.

The only difference in the habits of the two groups was that the meat eaters had 20 ounces of meat a day. Hence, it was concluded that the absence of this meat in the diet was the cause of the increase in size of the red blood cells, and the severity and frequency of the anemia, in the vegetarian group of those studied.

In one instance, a severe macrocytic anemia developed in a vegetarian when the amount of milk, fresh fruit and vegetables was reduced in the diet. Another case developed during a prolonged attack of fever, which would indicate the need of an abundance of meat and iron-containing foods in the diet of patients suffering from prolonged illness.

It would appear that meat eating is of some importance in the prevention of anemia.

Answer: The sore spot may be due to a lung disorder, but more probably is the result of an inflammation of a bursa (which is a sac containing fluid) under the shoulder blade. An orthopedic specialist should be consulted about this condition.

"Even This Shall Pass Away"
Once in Persia reigned a King,
Who upon his signet ring
"Graved a maxim true and wise,
Which, if held before the eyes,
Gave him counsel at a glance,
Fit for every change and chance,
Solemn words, and these are they,
"Even this shall pass away."

Trains of camels through the sand
Brought him gems from Samarkand;
Fleets of galleys through the seas
Brought him pearls to march with these.
But he counted not his gain
Treasurers of the mine or main;
"What is wealth?" the King would say;
"Even this shall pass away."

In the revels of his court
At the zenith of the sport,
When the palms of all his guests
Burned with clapping at his jests,
He, amid his figs and wine,
Cried: "Oh, loving friends of mine!
Pleasure comes, but not to stay;
"Even this shall pass away."

Fighting on a furious field,
Once a javelin pierced his shield;
Soldiers with a loud lament
Bore him bleeding to his tent;
Groaning from his tortured side,
"Pain is hard to bear," he cried,
But with patience, day by day—
"Even this shall pass away."

CHAPTER THIRTY TWO
BY "MY ROOM" Susy meant the largest, most lavish set of rooms the Mesquite possessed. She had taken them for herself when she first arrived at the ranch. She walked through them now, swiftly, in search of her maid.
"Get out," she said roughly, to an elderly gray-haired woman. "Don't come back until we are gone."
The servant did not answer. She just tossed a coat over her uniform and went into the swimming pool patio.
Susy Adams closed the door behind her, also a wide open window. "Now, I'm going to tell you something, Belinda. You are getting so unmanageable, so obstinate, so surly—She stopped to draw an angry breath. "Also so GROWNUP that I think it is about time you are told this."
Belinda did not fit any of those denunciations. She was simply an unhappy looking little girl, filled with a strange foreboding.
"Mother," she said tonelessly, "I know you don't love me and, if you can't, that's all right, because I can't love you either." She wet her lips. "I've learned to get along without you. I just wish you'd let me alone. Even before other people you could let me alone. We could stay kind of away from each other." Her face crinkled. "Don't give me that slushy stuff when others are around. Really, Mother, it makes my stomach roll over."
"I'm going to let you alone. That's why I'm sending you away. I intend to stay right here at the Mesquite until your father comes slinking back. And he will. He can't stay away forever. And while I wait," she said cruelly, "I can't stand to look at you."
Belinda was still standing up. She glanced down at her mother, who seemed to be lounging, totally relaxed, on the deep sofa. In reality, Susy Adams was tensed for action. She proved it now by snatching her daughter's hand and pulling her down beside her on the sofa.
"Please, Mother. I'd like to go now."
"Certainly you would. You'd like to get back to that little British snob." Her grasp on her child's hand tightened to the point of pain. "But you're not going for a while."
Belinda's free hand tightened about the Christmas box, beneath her arm. Along with that protection, she offered one for Spenser.
"He is not a snob!" She forgot that she had told her own father that the boy was snooty.
"Snootish!" persisted the blond woman. "And ill-mannered along with it."
One side of Belinda's mouth lifted. She did not realize how similar the mannerism was to that of her father. Consequently she could not know how it infuriated her mother.
"And he is so truthful, isn't he, mother?" she said with meaning. She went on, enjoying in an unhappy way, the look on her mother's face. "O. K., Mother. I'm 12 years old. And you can't take it. So send me away so you can be a young girl again. Believe said that kind of stuff was old-hat. He said nowadays, with the movie stars having lots of children and letting them get big if they wanted to, that it sure was funny to see some dame trying to keep hers in rompers."
"That onion-eyed snob!" said Susy scathingly. "I'm not interested in what he has to say. Typical friend of your father's. And that's what I want to talk to you about, Belinda. Your father."
"Be careful!" warned the child. "I don't have to be careful. This is true. And you have to know it. You think your father is so wonderful—don't talk, Belinda," she rushed to say. "You've just made a nice little speech. Now you can listen to one."
"Your father and you seem to have some idea of adding Sandra Edwards to your little twosome. I don't plan on it. In the first place, I don't intend to divorce him, and if he tries to divorce me—" An unattractive smile tightened her lips. "I shall not only take you, but I'll disgrace him."
"If Dad stopped—" Belinda could not speak openly about her father's weakness. "You couldn't take me away from him if he stopped it. And you couldn't shame him, either."
"We're not talking about the same thing, Belinda. I'm talking about your father taking money out of your grandfather's safe—" "I don't believe you!" screamed the little girl.
"Oh, but he did," Susy continued in a slow, even voice. "My attorney and I caught him. He had some story about my father having left a letter giving him the safe combination, saying that he was to have what was in there—" "Well then!" approved the little girl.
"Somehow your father could not produce the letter he SAID my father had written him."
Her slow insinuation brought hot red color into Belinda's cheeks. "I hate you, Mother. The chill, dispassionate way in which she said it made it sound more deadly."
"That doesn't matter to me. You see now, don't you, Belinda, that you needn't plan any future connected with Sandra Edwards. I'd squelch it, just as I said."
The young girl shook her head, unbelievably. "You'd do a thing like that to keep me, when you don't even like me? I can't see any reason. And I can't see any reason for you wanting to keep Dad when you don't like him, either."
"You'll understand when you are older. Your father left me. Her face was distorted as she repeated: "He had the nerve to LEAVE me. So, for that reason, I'll see that he never really gets away from me." Suddenly she smiled, a little smug smile. It frightened Belinda more than her mother's fury.
Still she remained, of her own free will now, not because of the grasp of her mother's hand. There was something else she wanted to know.

New Drug Labels and What They Mean

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON—The Food and Drug Administration is eliminating double-talk in the labeling of items that get into the family medicine chest.

New regulations effective Oct. 10 for all medicines procurable at a drug store provide: 1. If a medicine is safe for self-medication, the label on the bottle or box must contain full directions explaining what the product is good for, how much to take, when and how.

Products in this class include aspirin tablets, mild laxatives, cough medicines, mouth washes and gargles, and the like.

Nothing Vague

There are to be no more of those vague instructions such as "two teaspoons as directed by your physician," because medicines in this class do not require a doctor's supervision.

2. If a medicine is unsafe or ineffective without a doctor's supervision—medicines such as the sulfa drugs, digitals and thyroid extract—the label must bear only the legend: "To be dispensed only by or on the prescription of a physician (or dentist or veterinarian)."

Purpose Cited

Under the new regulations, the purpose of the prescription legend will be (1) to warn the druggist not to sell the product over the counter without a prescription and (2) to warn the public against use without medical advice.

Some prescription items may also bear the symbol "Rx" which is synonymous with the prescription legend, but the full text of the warning itself must also be carried.

Another point covered in the new rules:

Certain products are made from animal tissues, such as ovaries. Their value is not completely known, and they are useful only in connection with other treatment prescribed by a doctor.

Under the old rules it has been possible to purchase such products without a prescription. Food and Drug regulations have required only that they carry a "disclaimer" stating that the product contains "no known active principle."

Under the new regulations, the products must carry not only the disclaimer but a prescription legend as well.

WASHINGTON — The foot-note writers of contemporary political history are noting that the "silver spoon" brigade is disappearing from the upper brackets of government appointments.

Apparently, President Truman prefers "log cabin boys" as members of his official family.

The President's No. 2 man is James F. "Little Jimmy" Byrnes and that selection was made before Senator Harry S. Truman had even a glimmer that he might be No. 1. "Little Jimmy" won his nickname and the affection that attends it when he was a court stenographer in his native Spartanburg, S. C. But by that time the name of E. R. Stettinius (whose son the court stenographer from Carolina succeeded as secretary of state) was already well known in high financial circles.

Known to the whole country then too was John D. Rockefeller whose grandson, Nelson, even more recently relinquished his agency to Byrnes.

Definitely in the Rockefeller-Stettinius tradition was Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., whose family estate is almost next door to that of the Hudson River Roosevelts. The Truman administration has seen Morgenthau also return to his heritage and Judge Fred M. Vinson, another southerner who beat his way up from very little, succeeded him.

Attorney General Francis Biddle, whose family name is almost as well known in Philadelphia as William Penn's and Ben Franklin's has been succeeded by just plain Tom Clark, of Dallas, Tex.

The recently retired Secretary of War Henry Stimson also was a New York aristocrat whose family history closely paralleled that of the President he served under in World War II.

There's no hint from the foot-note writers that President Truman has banished any one from his official family just because he was born with that proverbial silver spoon.

Stimson's resignation, for example, had been written out in thought, if not in ink, before the change in administrations. Biddle and Stettinius have been given assignments which won't pull the same headlines as being cabinet members but which are jobs of grave responsibility.

Getting back to the new appointees, however, you can make out a real case for the "log cabin boys." After Byrnes, there's the No. 3 man in authority (though not in succession) in this period of reconversion—John W. Snyder, formerly a smalltown Arkansas banker.

The new secretary of agriculture, Clinton P. Anderson owns farms and ranches all over the place now, but he was just a Centerville, S. D., boy to start with.

Lewis Schwellenbach wasn't exactly born in a log hut but he worked his way to the top of the political heap in the Pacific Northwest as a laboring man's lawyer long before Truman picked him for secretary of labor and handed that department powers it never had before.

Fighting on a furious field, Once a javelin pierced his shield; Soldiers with a loud lament Bore him bleeding to his tent; Groaning from his tortured side, "Pain is hard to bear," he cried, But with patience, day by day— "Even this shall pass away."

Struck with palsy, sere and old, Waiting at the gates of gold, Said he, with his dying breath: "Life is done, but what is death?" Then, in answer to the King, Fell a sunbeam on his ring, Showing by a heavenly ray— "Even this shall pass away."

Mrs. C. S. Kelley, president of the Westminister Guild of the First Presbyterian Church, has announced that the district meeting of the Columbus Presbyterian will be held here Friday, October 5.

The morning program will begin at 10 o'clock and guest speaker will be the Presbyterian president, Mrs. M. E. Foltz, of Westerville.

A covered dish luncheon, with Mrs. Herbert Clickner chairman of the committee in charge, will be enjoyed at the noon hour.

Guest speakers for the afternoon program will be Reverend and Mrs. Lynn Browning, retired missionaries from Iran. Vocal music will be furnished by Mrs. Maynard Icenhower.

Guests are expected from Greenfield, Frankfort, Concord, South Salem, Pisgah, Bloomingburg, McNair Memorial and Bournville.

Mrs. Cary Scott, president of the district, will be in charge of all of the sessions.

Hannah Kay Case Honor Guest on First Birthday

Little Hannah Kay Case, daughter of Major and Mrs. John Case, celebrated her first birthday at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl J. Kay, Monday evening.

Seated at the dining room table with the young guest of honor were Mr. and Mrs. John W. Case, Mrs. Anna K. Dewees, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Case and son, Billy, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edgar Vance and sons, David and Teddy, and Mr. and Mrs. Kay.

A pink and white color scheme was carried out in the details of the table decorations, and a pretty birthday cake was placed before Hannah Kay.

Following the delicious dessert course, a large number of lovely birthday gifts were opened, and the remainder of the evening was spent in informal visiting.

MHG Class Holds Meeting Monday Eve

The M.H.G. Class of the First Presbyterian Church held their regular meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Fred D. Woolard.

There were twenty-five members present, and an hour of informal visiting preceded the business meeting.

Mrs. Ormond Dewey, president of the class, was in charge of the short business session, and Mrs. O. D. Farquhar conducted the devotions.

At the close of the evening the hostesses served delicious refreshments. Hostesses for the evening serving with Mrs. Woolard were: Miss Mazie Kessler, Mrs. Walter Hutton, Mrs. Harold Biehn, Mrs. Frank Wean, Mrs. T. B. McCoy, Mrs. Arthur Finley, Mrs. E. L. Mann and Mrs. Edna Ankrom.

Hayes-Dunn Vows Announced Here

The Methodist Church parsonage in Sabina was the scene of the wedding of Miss Mary Virginia Hayes, youngest daughter of Harry Hayes, and Pfc. William B. Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Dunn, Saturday, September 1, when Rev. J. C. Williams, pastor, officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

Their attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Clark Walker, of New Vienna, brother-in-law and sister of the bride.

The bride wore a powder blue costume with black accessories and her corsage was of red and white roses. She wore a strand of pearls, belonging to the bridegroom's mother.

Mrs. Walker wore teal blue with matching accessories and carried white roses.

The wedding dinner was served at the home of Mrs. Edna Driskill in New Vienna, to the wedding party, Rev. Williams, Mr. Hayes and Mr. and Mrs. Dunn, parents of the couple.

Following the dinner the bridal couple left on a short trip. For traveling, the new Mrs. Dunn wore a navy blue ensemble.

The bride is a graduate of Sabina High School of the class of 1942 and is employed at the Air

Mrs. Juanita Rankin Fultz, Concert Pianist, Appears Before 75 DAR and Guests

Mrs. Juanita Rankin Fultz

Mrs. Charles A. Dorn, State DAR Chaplain, Luncheon Speaker Monday When Brilliant Affair Is Held for Opening Fall Meeting

Flat watergardens of yellow and orange fall flowers flanked by tall orange candles bedecked each of the many tables used on Monday afternoon when the Washington C. H. Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution held their opening meeting of the current year which featured a luncheon at one o'clock at the Country Club. The colorful fall motif used by Mrs. E. F. Todhunter, hostess chairman, and her committee made a most attractive setting for the delightful affair.

Featured luncheon speaker was Mrs. Charles A. Dorn, State DAR Chaplain, who was introduced by Mrs. Forest DeBra, program chairman.

Musical entertainment was provided by Mrs. Juanita Rankin Fultz, outstanding concert pianist, whose appearance here was enthusiastically received by the seventy-five D.A.R. members and their luncheon guests.

Jr. D.A.R. members who served the three-course luncheon of tempting viands were Mrs. Hugh Perrill, Mrs. Robert Terhune, Mrs. Loren Hynes and Mrs. Robert Hagler.

Receiving the guests were Mrs. Todhunter and her committee. They were Mrs. A. W. Duff, Mrs. Robert P. Wilson, Mrs. Forest A. DeBra, Mrs. C. E. Mark, Mrs. Gilbert Adams, Miss Florence Conner, Mrs. Hugh Perrill, Mrs. Walter E. McCoy, Mrs. Harlan Allen and Mrs. George Gray, of Sabina. Regent, Mrs. E. L. Morgan, took charge of opening the meeting gent's message. Mrs. J. E. McLean's secretarial report was approved.

Mrs. Glenn Rodgers, benefit card party chairman, made the announcement that tickets are now available to be sold by D.A.R. members. The party will be held on October 17 at the Dayton Power and Light club rooms. She said that other forms of diversion will be available for those who do not wish to play cards.

Mrs. Jess Feagans, chapter librarian, Mrs. Harry Rankin and Mrs. George Robinson were appointed as a committee to purchase books in memory of deceased members. These will be placed in the D.A.R. Memorial section of the Carnegie Public Library.

Mrs. Morgan then turned the meeting over to Mrs. DeBra who introduced Mrs. Dorn. The speaker, a stately and poised woman of great charm, spoke with great ease before the group who heard her interesting account of national D.A.R. projects planned for the year. Some of these included the presentation of mobile X-ray equipment for six navy hospital ships, and plans were announced by her concerning the building of an auditorium-gymnasium for the D.A.R. approved school in Tammassee. She also urged the members to continue making buddy bags for soldiers and sailors in convalescent hospitals for there is still a great need for these. Mrs. Dorn also told about her visit to Ellis Island, where the D.A.R. has placed three therapists.

Mrs. Fultz was introduced by Mrs. DeBra. Her first numbers included three Chopin numbers, "Nocturne in C Minor," "Waltz," and "Polonaise." Next she played "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 8," which was followed by "South American Fire Dance." She closed her program with two original compositions by herself which were "Jabberwock" and "A Marionette Dance."

Mrs. Fultz began her musical education at a very early age under the tutelage of her mother, later continuing her study in the classes of Henry Fitzel of Dayton where she made her debut as a concert pianist. She continued her education at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music under the supervision of Marcian Thalberg, celebrated Swiss pianist, Dr. and Madame Liszewska and later in the master classes of Severin Eisenger.

AIRLINE TO WCH TO BE REQUESTED OF CIVIL BOARD

Passenger and Mail Service
With Feeder Lines Are In Plans

Washington C. H.'s need for feeder airline passenger and mail service will be presented to the Civil Aeronautics Board at a hearing in Indianapolis when James M. Riffe Jr., executive vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, goes there, possibly Wednesday, to present the case.

All major airlines and several smaller companies have filed petitions for routes in the east-central states, routes which will be allocated on the basis of information collected at the hearings by William F. Guskick and Joseph L. Fitzmaurice, CAB examiners, an Associated Press report said.

Riffe said the service for Washington C. H. if scheduled would be feeder lines with connections for Cincinnati, Columbus, Cleveland and Dayton, all centers for major airlines.

He said he did not plan to go to Indianapolis until he knew exactly when the hearing for Washington C. H. would be scheduled, but he expected it would be sometime this week.

The possibility that the Washington Airport, operated by Ray French, would be the field used by the airlines was mentioned.

Representatives of several Ohio cities appeared before examiners from the board from Washington, D. C., yesterday in a move to better their air transportation service, today's report from Indianapolis said.

Approximately 800 cities in eight states in the Great Lakes area would be affected by plans proposed at the preliminary hearing called by the CAB. The two examiners will report back to Washington.

John Berry, commissioner of the Cleveland Airport, appealed for an additional 100 flights daily from there. He said the facilities were adequate and the city expected to spend $100,000 within the next four years on improvements.

Springfield, the ninth largest Ohio city, revealed in a 53-page report that it didn't have any airline service.

LOCAL MAN ATTENDS KING WELCOME HOME

W. A. Armbrust Delegate of Elks Lodge Here

W. A. (Gus) Armbrust enjoyed the rare privilege of being a guest at the banquet and civic reception accorded Admiral Ernest King, commander of part of the Pacific battle fleet, upon his return to his hometown of Lorain, over the week-end.

The reception was held under auspices of the Ohio Elks Association, and Armbrust went as the only delegate from the Elks Lodge in Washington C. H., attending the banquet Saturday evening, at which Admiral King and other notables were speakers, and remaining over for the luncheon and parade held Sunday.

The event was one which drew a huge crowd to Lorain, and the conquering admiral was given a tremendous ovation.

Units from the U. S. Army and Navy, led by the 341st Regimental Band, took part in the five-mile long parade.

MEAT INSPECTOR TO GET STARTED WITHIN A WEEK

Arrival of Equipment Only Thing Delaying Inauguration
Program Now

Inspection of slaughter houses and meat markets may be underway by next week.

Dr. William Bolton, the county sanitarian who will be the inspector, said he was waiting only for the equipment—grading stamps and instruments needed to inspect slaughtered animals—to start the inspection program. The equipment probably will arrive sometime this week and the inspection can begin next week, he said.

There are five slaughter houses which will be inspected. How many meat markets in the county are to be inspected, Dr. Bolton did not know. He did indicate, however, that the "majority" of them will have to make improvements, chiefly in their meat storage facilities, if they are to be permitted to continue selling.

The meat inspection stamp here will be egg shaped, inked on the meat which is approved at the slaughter houses. The oval shape was selected so it could be distinguished easily from other inspection stamps.

The board of health passed the resolution making slaughter house and meat-market inspection mandatory in September.

REV. A.E. HUNTINGTON ATTENDS CENTENNIAL

Retired Minister from Here at Amelia Celebration

Having served the pulpit of the Amelia Methodist Church, in Clermont County in 1912-13, Rev. A. E. Huntington, accompanied by Mrs. Huntington, was among the six former pastors who returned for Sunday's centennial celebration of the founding of the church. The present building replaced the original church which was burned several years ago.

Along with the former pastors, five additional guest ministers and their wives attended the all-day celebration.

Dr. J. A. Shirer, present pastor, had the morning sermon. His topic was "Silver Threads Among the Gold." Dr. E. F. Andree, Wilmington District Superintendent, had the afternoon sermon which was written on the text: "First the blade, then the ear, then the full corn of the ear."

Amelia Young People of the Church had complete charge of the evening program of worship. Musical talent, both instrumental and vocal, supplied entertainment at the services.

FLOW OF CREEKS IS STARTED BY CONTINUED RAIN

First Day of October Has
.94 Inch Precipitation
As Starter

October was ushered in with .94 of an inch of rain, and heaviest rainfall for many weeks, and as a result most of the streams that had ceased to flow were showing a steady increase in the amount of water moving down their channels.

Most of the heavy rains, which were general in the county, occurred during the early hours of the night. The fall of water was so heavy that dozens of catchbasins were flooded and water stood in the streets for sometime.

Likewise water was standing in many fields throughout the county, where heavy rains during the past week had thoroughly soaked the ground.

At 11:15 A. M. Tuesday water coming down Paint Creek had reached the tow of the little dam about 100 yards from the main dam at the pumping station here, and was overflowing into the main reservoir, indicating that the flow was of sufficient strength to fill the reservoir within the next 24 to 48 hours.

No water had passed over the main dam since August 13.

However, if rainfall was as heavy throughout the northern reaches of the stream as it was in this city, resumption of flow was expected within 24 hours, in which case it would probably fill the reservoir and relieve the water situation insofar as the city is concerned.

During the past 31 days total rainfall in this area has been 4.49 inches, or considerably above normal for the period.

Rain has been sufficient to prevent farm wells from going dry, as they did last year during the drought, and there is every indication that the drought has been broken in this community.

MRS. HESTER GREER IS CLAIMED MONDAY

Funeral Services Will Be Held
Thursday Morning

Mrs. Hester Ann Greer, 76, died Monday at 8:35 P. M. at the Davey Rest Home here. She was the widow of the late Leander Greer.

A member of the North Street Church of Christ, Mrs. Greer had been a resident of Washington C. H. for 36 years.

Surviving are two sons, Roy of Washington C. H. and Jess of Delphos; one daughter, Mrs. B. L. Bonecutter of Wilmington; two brothers, John Nevergall of Oklahoma and Tilden Nevergall of Melvin; two sisters, Mrs. Luther Greer of Washington C. H. and Mrs. Ella Barnes of Lima and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Thursday at 10 A. M. at the Cox and Parrett Funeral Home with Rev. J. Cain in charge. Burial will be in the Milledgeville Cemetery.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Fayette County Boys With Armed Forces

Harford H. ("Dick") Hankins, seaman first class, U.S.C.G., came home Sunday night from St. Simons Island, Georgia, to spend a 14 day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harford H. Hankins.

M-Sgt. Robert E. Hartman, who left his position as cashier of the First National Bank more than three years ago to go into the army, has received his discharge. In the Army Air Forces, he was last stationed at Wright Field. He has given no indication of his plans for the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Finley, route 6, have received word from their son, First Lt. Harold M. Finley, telling of his safe arrival on Luzon Island in the South Pacific. He landed September 7 and said he would continue to Japan. He has been in service for three years.

Lt. Herbert Perrill is home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Perrill, and with Mr. Howard Perrill, coming from the Army Air Base, Florence, S. C.

He is being transferred from the Florence Air Field to the Suffolk Field, Long Island. His wife and child, who reside in Cambridge, are also at the Perrill home for a few days while he is here.

Pfc. Robert M. Williamson, who served with the 32nd Division for three years and ten months in Australia, New Guinea, East Indies and the South Pacific, has been honorably discharged at Camp Atterbury, Ind. He was discharged September 29. He has eight major battle stars.

LUNCH PROGRAM AT WHS STARTS MONDAY NOON

70 Hot Meals Served; Grade
Schools To Begin
Later

Macaroni and cheese, peas, meat sandwiches, fruit and milk is the meal 70 Washington High School students ate Monday noon when the cafeteria started serving hot lunches for the first time this school year.

The lunch program in Eastside and Sunnyside schools usually does not start until several weeks after the high school cafeteria opens, it was explained. The opening of the lunch program there has not been scheduled yet.

Mrs. Charles Sever and Mrs. Coral Meier, the regular cooks, prepare the meal while girls in the home economics department of the high school help them with the cooking and virtually take over the serving.

Mrs. Marilyn Hall, the home economics teacher, plans the meals for the cafeteria. The menus for the rest of the week are:

Tuesday: Cream meat, mash potatoes, green beans, lettuce sandwich, fruit, milk.

Wednesday: Candied sweet potatoes, fried apples, cheese sandwich, fruit, milk.

Thursday: Potatoes au gratin, boiled cabbage, sandwich, fruit, milk.

Friday: Lima beans, glazed carrots, slaw, meat sandwich, fruit, milk.

CECIL SKIDMORE DRAWS DOUBLE FINE

Washington C. H. Man Is Sent To Jail at Hillsboro

LEESBURG, O. T. 2 — Cecil Skidmore, of Washington C. H., has learned it does not pay to try to beat the law.

Skidmore was arrested by a state highway patrolman for driving a truck without proper operator's license. He was arraigned before the mayor of Leesburg and fined $25 and costs.

Unable to pay more than $6 on the fine, Skidmore asked if he might return to Washington C. H. and secure the remainder of the money.

Meanwhile, Skidmore's wife started the truck, Skidmore jumped in and they attempted to flee Leesburg in the direction of Hillsboro.

Finding their way blocked by a train they turned north toward Washington C. H. but found the mayor's car blocking the way.

Returned to the town building, Skidmore was fined an additional $25 and costs on a reckless operation charge, and unable to pay, was committed to the Highland County jail.

SON FILES COMPLAINT
GREENFIELD—Walter Yankie, 40, was fined $25 and costs in Mayor's court for assault and battery upon his son, Robert Kenneth Yankie, who filed the charge. Yankie was also placed under a $500 peace bond.
